The Call to Thomas Smith for Auditor.

When Mr. Thomas Smith was called upon to run for Auditor, we published the following list of signatures appended to that request. It will be seen they embrace some of our best known citizens, though there are hundreds of others who would have gladly added their names to the list had the call been presented to them. There was little time afforded to procure names, and the call to Mr. Fletcher had been previously circulated by several persons.

E. H. Chase was one of them, and most of those who signed it were not aware that Mr. Smith would be a candidate or they would not have signed the Fletcher call, for they afterwards so declared. Moreover the people were not then aware who had signed it. This little fact of having the Call of Common Pleas, on city of fairs at Meadville. Our citizens have to go to Meadville often enough now without going there to transact their city business, and if we can't have a new county, we don't want to be compelled to turn our municipal affairs altogether over to a court house anybody who will read the exposition in another column, will see what we are coming to under the Chase and Fletcher city government.

But here is the call to Mr. Smith. It is the right sort of men to back it. It is no "ring" business as everybody knows.

With such straight-out Democrats as Henry Hinkley and John Forging, and such worthy Republicans as J. A. Cal-dwaller and John C. Bryan, we ought to have no difficulty in electing

Mr. Thomas Smith for Auditor.

The Tinkering of the Charter Amendments.

On Friday last we explicitly charged that, after the bill of charter amendments agreed upon by the citizens of Titusville had been introduced in the Legislature, certain private individuals took it upon themselves to have the section relating to City Auditor so manipulated as to take from the Common Council the power of appointing an Auditor in case of a vacancy, and conferring that authority on the Court of Common Pleas. We reiterate the same precisely as we stated it on Friday last.

It will be remembered that during the discussion of the charter amendments last winter and spring, a committee were appointed by a public meeting to confer with the Council in relation to the subject of preparing a bill and to report the result to an adjourned public meeting. This plan was carried out. The citizens' committee met, the Council met, and after long and arduous deliberation agreed unanimously to a series of amendments, and reported the same to an adjourned public meeting, which was also attended by twenty judges, and that no money shall be drawn from the City Treasury to pay the costs or expenses.

The laborer, the mechanic, the smallest or largest creditor, is thus deterred of any aid from the Council to collect his bill, however just, and is placed at the mercy of a single individual.

These are the substance of the alterations made in Section 13 of the City Charter after it had been introduced in the Legislature. They were made without the knowledge or consent of the people, and in defiance of the expressed will of the citizens, as represented by a just committee of Council and citizens, after deliberation of several weeks, and in defiance also of the unanimous vote of hundreds of citizens in public assemblies, in approval of the bill reported by the joint committee.

These are not errors of form, but of substance. They are made to serve a definite purpose. They show marks of deliberation. They strike at the liberty of the citizen as well as the powers which the people have entrusted to the Council (and the School Directors, for they apply equally to them) as their official representatives.

They degrade both of these bodies, and they degrade the public credit. They tie the hands of the people's representatives, and place the supreme authority in the hands of a Court without a jury! What business has Mr. H. Chase, as Auditor, to be put as the judicial power, and in defiance also of the unanimous vote
